

The End of Napoleon

- England convinced Austria and Russia to join with it against Napoleon.
- Napoleon wanted to starve the British, so he said the British couldn't dock at any European port. Portugal refused Napoleon's control, and allowed the English to dock at their ports.
- Napoleon's army marched deep in to Russia.
- Napoleon's army was tired and cold in the middle of Russia. Napoleon heard rumblings of disappointment from the people of France and rushed back to Paris.
- The British took on the United States in The War of 1812.
- Britain still had too much fighting to do with the French. Britain and the United States decided to stop fighting the War of 1812.
- Napoleon was sent to Elba for his first exile.
- The British captured Napoleon and sent him to St. Helena - far away.

The End of Napoleon

NEW WORDS!

Treaty - A written agreement between two states.

Dock - Manoeuvre into a dock (a platform built out from the shore into the water and supported by piles).

Treachery - An act of deliberate betrayal.

Allegiance - loyalty.

Ally - An associate who provides cooperation or assistance.

Mass - Join together into a mass.

Deserter - a person who abandons their duty.

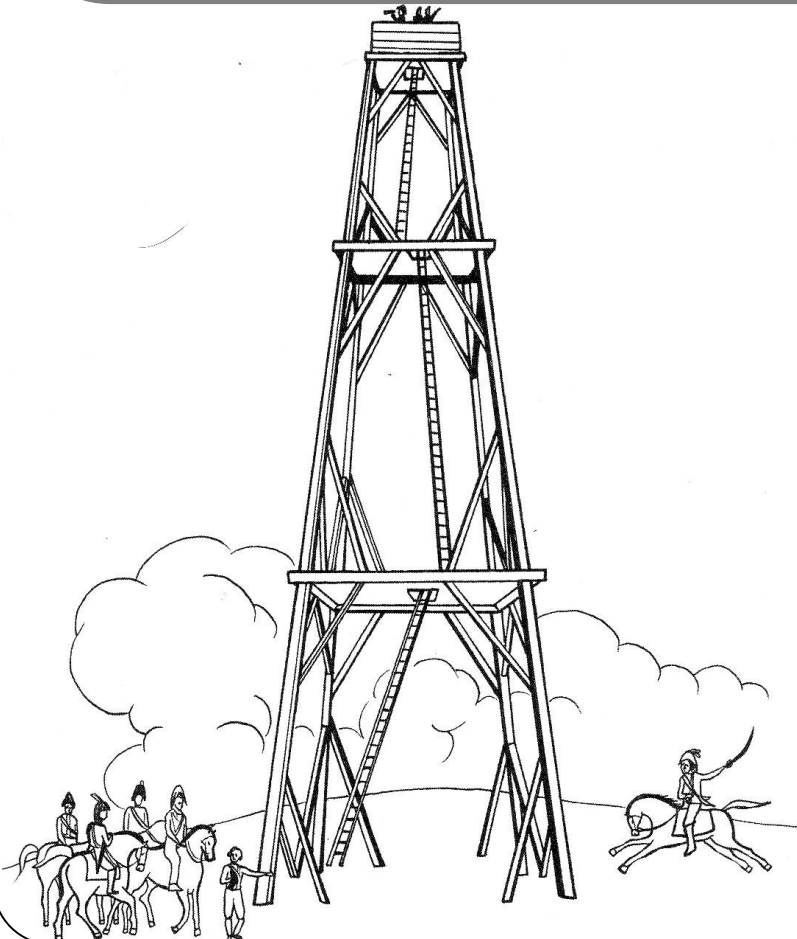

Rally - Call to arms.

Exile - Expelled from a country.

Humiliated - to feel shame; wounded pride.

Tyrant - Any person who exercises power in a cruel way.

The Marseillaise - the French national song.

The Duke of Wellington defeated Napoleon at the Battle of Waterloo. This picture is based on an 1815 print titled, "Bonaparte's Observatory to View the Battle of Waterloo".

